

Youth in Nature is made possible by the Jonathan Devan Lewis Foundation

Photo Credit: Roaring Fork Outdoor Volunteers

10th - 12th grade students!

WANT TO GET OUTSIDE, EXPLORE WHERE YOU LIVE, AND GET PAID TO DO IT?

Spark your curiosity for nature, challenge yourself, and have FUN!

- Try new things—from farming and recreation to conservation and environmental stewardship
- Learn from experienced outdoor leaders during a backcountry hut trip, field-based projects, and recreational activities
- Discover internship, volunteer, and job opportunities in the outdoors
- Receive a $1,500 educational award

*The program is FREE and open to 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students attending Aspen to Parachute schools. All supplies, gear, transportation (for trips/to activity sites), and meals are provided. Prior outdoor experience IS NOT needed.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE

June 27, 2022 • 1-5pm

Kick-off orientation (Coffman Ranch, Carbondale)

July 12-15, 2022

3-night/4-day backcountry hut trip (White River National Forest)

Eight Saturday activities between Sept 2022-May 2023 • 9am-4pm

Activities led by Youth in Nature partners at locations around the Roaring Fork and Colorado River Valleys

APPLY TODAY

- Apply HERE or contact your school's college and career counselor for an application
- Applications due Tuesday, May 31, 2022, 5pm

LEARN MORE

- Visit bit.ly/YouthNature
- Contact Tracy Anderson, ACF Program Director at tracy@aspencommunityfoundation.org, 970-925-9300

Youth in Nature is an Aspen Community Foundation partnership with Roaring Fork Outdoor Volunteers, Aspen Center for Environmental Studies, Aspen Valley Land Trust, The Buddy Program, The Farm Collaborative, GlenX Career Expo, and Aspen Skiing Company; and is made possible through generous support from the Jonathan Devan Lewis Foundation.